

Harrington Street, Sydney

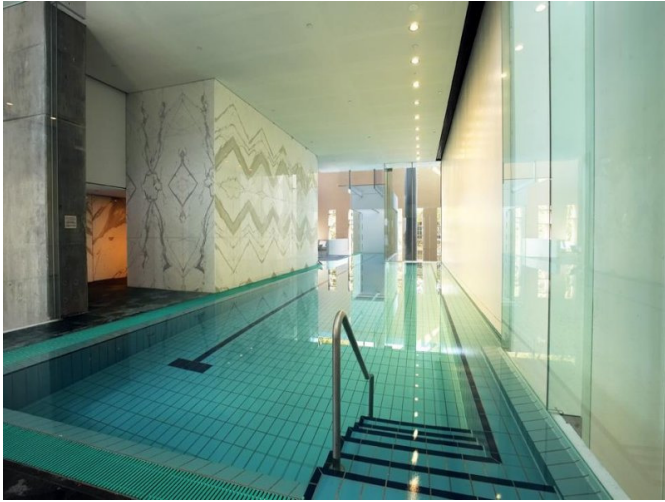

“The Cove”

Designed by Harry Seidler, this security complex is arguably one of Sydney’s most popular residential buildings.

This modern apartment has been furnished throughout to executive standard and has an open plan living and dining area.

The galley kitchen with gas cooking and stainless steel appliances fully equipped with all you should require for a great home cooked meal.

The complex has great facilities which include a 25 metre indoor heated pool, gym, steam & sauna room, outdoor garden terrace & BBQ area.

The Cove is a great city base situated just a stroll from all that Sydney has to offer including great shopping & dining.
